RECENT EVENTS

“The Guru Gets a Promotion”

From April 30th through May 4th, Louix experienced powerful, relentless hiccups, an occasion which has been long recognized in the Hindu tradition of Gurus as signifying a quantum expansion of consciousness. It was His most significant expansion of this kind (fits of hiccups) since the series in 1997 which culminated in Paramahansa Yogananda’s physically materializing in Louix’s presence and anointing Him with the Sanskrit name “Sri Prananda.” From May 5th – 7th, He went on a vision quest (the first one by Himself since prior to the Israel pilgrimage in 2000) in the Anza-Borrego Desert wilderness. In silence and in total fasting, God was preparing Him for the imminent emergence of His ministry in the world.

Disciple Training on Mother's Day

On May 11th, Louix gathered with His disciples in the beautiful gardens of the Sanctuary (Louix's home) for a special Mother's Day Disciple Training. The gathering commenced with various disciples sharing the blessings in their lives and receiving Guruji's guidance on various subjects. Louix addressed several individuals on their employment and their financial situations, reiterating that we only have one job—that there is no separation between our seva and our employment in the world. Therefore, the consciousness we apply to one job directly affects and impacts the other. It is the “quality” of our service, not the “quantity,” that matters, and we should imbue every aspect of our seva, as well as our employment, with devotion.

The path of devotion is the highest path to God because it is the quickest path to self-love.

A most unusual and remarkable synchronicity took place throughout this blessing: during most of the gathering, the next-door neighbor's party was quiet, with no music playing. At various points during Louix's tenderings, a song would start playing very loudly and the lyrics for each song confirmed and punctuated the message He was delivering—truly a magical experience!

We closed our session and gathered inside to watch the film What Dreams May Come. After the movie, Louix gave a profound and timely discourse on self-forgiveness, (in His own words) “the most important discourse He has ever given.” The following is an excerpt from His discourse that evening:

“...all the different things that are in your life that you have refused to forgive, and all the different people who have wronged you and hurt you, whom you have refused to forgive—you chose, wanted, needed, and created so that you could forgive them, and thereby learn to forgive and then love yourself.”

Wesak Ceremony

On May 20th, Prema Drala Ashram convened at Heritage Park in Dana Point to celebrate Wesak. This holy day, which always occurs on the full moon of Taurus, fell on a Blue Moon this year, making it even more auspicious. Louix instructed us to sit in a sacred medicine wheel He meticulously constructed and blessed. He walked around the circle and anointed us with Holy Basil oil, and then vibhuti, showered us with rose petals, placed amrit (Divine nectar) on our tongues, and touched our heads and shoulders with His Egyptian staff. For the entire 45 minutes He led this ceremony/anointing, we chanted “Om Mani Padme Hum,” invoking Lord Buddha into the circle.

At the exact moment of moonrise, Louix said a prayer to invoke the Divine blessings available that evening, asking that we release any inauthentic ways of being, take on a higher level of accountability in our lives, and claim this new empowerment as our own birthright and destiny. Louix began chanting “Jai Jai Ram” (a chant which He had recently composed), as He danced ceremoniously around the medicine wheel for more than 30 minutes. Watching Him with awe, we joined Him in this transformational chant while providing a beat with drums and shakers. We concluded this sublime ceremony by placing our blessing upon the medicine wheel as we each filed out.

We are happy to announce that the 275 children from the Sandy Happy Children’s Home arrived at their new home in Kisumu on June 19th, laughing all the way from their old home located in the slums of Nairobi. Accompanying the children are nine full-time staff members (and their families) who care for and teach the children.

The new site for the home is located on a two-acre plot of land near Lake Victoria. Their plan is to expand it by another two acres in the next 18 months. All the children now live in the Louix Building (already completed), which includes dormitories with beds and bathrooms, as well as classrooms and kitchen facilities. The new buildings are wired for electricity, have running water, toilets, a fresh water well, windows, and concrete floors—all of which are very uncommon in Kenya and are a tremendous upgrade from their home in Nairobi.

Instead of tearing down the old building in Nairobi, two staff members remained behind and took in and additional 120 children, aged two to four, whose parents have died from A.I.D.S. and HIV.

On Saturday, June 28th, Sandy Pofahl, a major sponsor of the Sandy Happy Children's Home, visited Prema Drala Ashram to share his history with Francis Ouma Ooko and the home, recent updates, and his future vision for the home's development. As Sandy presented his vision, Louix gave poignant suggestions for how the Sandy Happy Children's Home could adopt certain holistic practices that are part and parcel of His teachings. Sandy was in agreement and most grateful for the input.

The current yearly budget for the Home is $55,250.00 to house, feed, clothe, and educate the children, as well as provide a small income for its staff. There is an immediate need to raise $11,000 to purchase the adjacent block of land to expand the property.

Once again, thank you for all the prayers and support for Francis Ooko, the children, and the staff of the Sandy Happy Children's Home. Their recent move to Kisumu has only been possible through your generosity.

Brand-New Website Coming!

We are excited to announce that the new website (www.Louix.org) is scheduled for launch in August 2008. This upgrade and redesign includes many new features, such as videos, slideshows, and audio. We apologize for any inconvenience while the site has been under construction.

“The Sanctuary” is for sale

The home of Louix Dor Dempriey (“The Sanctuary”), which has been the ashram’s Mother Center since 2000, is now being sold, the first phase of its eventual relocation to Hawaii. We place this notice in our newsletter to make this rare opportunity to own and/or live in the home which has housed a God-realized being for eight years, something virtually unavailable in the world of real estate. We are also sending out a “clarion call” to anyone who may have an interest in protecting and preserving this sacred temple for generations to come, as part of the archives and living legacy of Louix’s life and mission (as was preserved the home of Paramahansa Yogananda in Encinitas, which now continues to radiate His grace to the thousands who make pilgrimages there from all over the world). It is also possible that the new owner (if a long-distance purchase is made) may choose to rent the home to certain disciples and devotees who would maintain a Southern California ashram/center in Louix’s name.

The MLS number for the home is S528922. A virtual tour of the home is now available at http://www.us360.com/homes/viewer.cfm?tour_id=22318. For more information about the sale of the home, please contact realtor Jim Flanagan at (949) 922-7355 or jim@jimflanagan.com.
